Comorbidities cause most deaths in Mysuru: DHO

48 COVID deaths reported in last 10 days

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (RK,KS& BCT)- At a time when the State Government has made an announcement that night curfew and most of the restrictions will be relaxed from today, the rising COVID death numbers in the State and in Mysuru is a cause for concern.

Mysuru Health Officers, however, say that most of the deaths that occurred in Mysuru since the last 10 days were due to comorbidities. Comorbidity means more than one disease or condition present in the same person at the same time. Conditions described as comorbidities are often chronic or long-term conditions.

State-wide, yesterday's (Jan. 30) figures show that there were 28,264 new COVID-19 cases and 68 deaths. According to the Karnataka Health and Family Welfare Department, Karnataka now has 2,51,084 active cases. Bengaluru Urban reported 11,938 new cases and 14 deaths while Mysuru reported 2,322 fresh cases and 10 deaths yesterday.

On Saturday (Jan. 29), the number of COVD-19 fatalities jumped by 40 percent in just one day and the State reported 70 deaths. This was the highest number of deaths since the start of the third wave. Bengaluru Urban reported the maximum number of deaths at 13, followed by Mysuru with 9 deaths.

Compared to 33,337 cases that were reported in State on Saturday, Sunday's 28,264 fresh cases marked a decline. Positivity rate too declined to 16.38 percent from 19.37 percent on Saturday. In 10 days (from Jan. 20 to Jan. 30) 48 persons have lost their lives due to COVID in Mysuru.

According to the media bulletin released by the District Administration, five COVID deaths were reported on Jan. 20, three on Jan. 21, one death each on Jan. 22 and 23, three deaths each on Jan. 24 and 25, five on Jan. 27, eight on Jan. 28, nine on Jan. 29 and 10 COVID deaths were reported yesterday.

Most of the deaths were in the age group of 52 to 89 years and many patients were with comorbidities, says the data obtained from the media bulletin.

District Health Officer (DHO) Dr. K.H. Prasad told Star of Mysore this morning that a majority of deaths were due to heart and lungs problems and patients with other comorbidities. He said that even if one is completely vaccinated, it is very much essential to take precautionary steps.

The cumulative COVID-19 deaths in Mysuru district have risen to 2,492. Active cases as on Jan. 30 is 11,974. As many as 1,615 patients were discharged from hospitals yesterday.

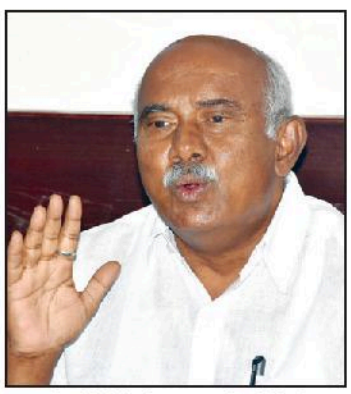
MLAs, MP not owners but public servants, chides Vishwanath

'We seek votes to serve people, not rule'

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (MTY&BCT)- Joining the Piped Natural Gas project debate, BJP MLC A. H. Vishwanath today chided his party MLAs and the MP and said, "MLAs and MP are not the owners of their respective Constituencies and they are not rulers. Rather they are public servants and have been chosen to serve the people with humility," he said.

Speaking to reporters at Jaladarshini Guest House this morning, the MLC, known for his acerbic tongue, said, "When you seek votes you humbly ask people for a chance to serve and not rule. You must forgo this attitude of arrogance," he said.

Targeting MP Pratap Simha,



A. H. Vishwanath, MLC

Vishwanath said that the piped gas project is not the MP's project. "It is a people-friendly project initiated by the Centre and has been quietly implemented in many cities and people are enjoying the benefits. Only in Mysuru there is public squabbling between leaders over trivial issues. Our own party leaders are opposing the ambitious project and this move is unfortunate," he said.

"Rather, the elected representatives — from the Corporation to the Parliament — must speedily implement the project instead of washing dirty linen in public," he advised.

Training guns on MLA Nagendra and S.A. Ramdas for opposing the project using an alibi of road-digging, Vishwanath said, "In the past when you were Corporators and even MLAs, you have allowed road-digging by many telecom companies and JUSCO. Why were you silent then and what shut your mouth? When JUSCO abandoned the 24x7 drinking water project, why did you not raise your voice? Why was the company let off without penalisation?"

On the present company digging roads, the MLC said that there are funds in the MCC and the Government to restore roads. "The MLAs have enough experience in handling Corporation affairs. Even when JUSCO left the project, all the damaged roads were repaired by the MCC later. Are you ignorant of this fact? Why is there a hue and cry now," he questioned.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

In another win for women's right to inheritance of property, the Supreme Court has ruled that daughters will have equal rights to their father's property even prior to the enactment of the Hindu Succession Act (HSA) of 1956. In fact, it clarified that if a property of a male Hindu dying intestate is a self-acquired property or obtained in partition of a coparcenary or family property, the same would devolve by inheritance to daughters, and not by survivorship as was the case before 1956. The Apex Court has been progressively interpreting the 2005 amendment to the HSA and in 2020 clarified that daughters had coparcenary rights by birth.

In a country where women face massive social and legal hurdles to inheritance, this is a big win. Thanks to deep patriarchal mores and rural-agrarian settings, property, which is seen as a primary source of wealth, is largely inclined to be passed on to male heirs. Plus, inheritance laws for agricultural land remain a minefield with conflicting Central personal laws and State laws. Add to this ground-level resistance to registering land for women. Thus, women's empowerment and property rights remain an unfinished project. —In The Times of India

Fat cat owner accused of animal cruelty

Moscow: The owner of a severely overweight feline dubbed the 'world's fattest cat' is facing accusations of animal cruelty for allowing his pet to get so big.

Lyznia the Cat, recently landed her owner in hot water. After photos of the obese cat started doing the rounds online, her Russian female owner started receiving criticism online for overfeeding her pet and not caring about her wellbeing. However, the woman has since hit back at her critics, saying that Lyznia has been having weight problems ever since she first became pregnant a few years ago.

The woman went on to explain that Lyznia ballooned after her first pregnancy and despite repeated visits to a vet, there was no stopping her weight gain. The feline was prescribed various types of food, but she continued to pile on weight until she was put on just 29 grams meal.

Fish with shark's body and pig's face caught

Portoferraio: Sailors were stunned after catching a fish with the body of a shark and the face of a pig in the sea.

The bizarre fish was spotted by naval officers floating in the water before it was pulled out of the ocean. The fish was discovered in the waters at the Darsena Medicea Marina in the town of Portoferraio on the Italian island of Elba.

At first glance it appeared to be a shark and when the sailors took a closer look, the sea creature actually had a face that better resembled a pig with a peculiar 'snout'.

But they quickly dispelled rumours it was some kind of mutant after it was identified as an extremely rare Angular roughshark (Oxynotus centrina).

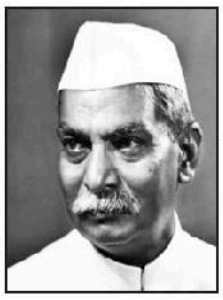
A truly enlightening article for younger generation

Sir,

This refers to Dr. C.D. Sreenivasa Murthy's article titled "The First President of India Dr. Rajendra Prasad" (SOM dated Jan.25). It is truly enlightening for the younger generation and a reminder for my generation which has forgotten all the grave follies of previous Governments and the Emergency during Indira Gandhi's reign!



The author has been factual, and with clarity brings out the virtues of Dr. Rajendra Prasad, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel and the true qualities of the charismatic Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru.

When I was a student in school and college, being ignorant and following what was dished out by the admirers of the great Nehru Dynasty, I was also a great admirer of the father and daughter, grandson and the foreign daughter-in-law.

After I was 20 years old and went to US, I started taking interest in political developments and the political leaders and became a voracious reader of articles and books on these subjects. After watching the tamasha that was called a democracy but actually a monarchy (!) in India — a farce of holding elections and claiming how democracy works in India, I began to understand the role played by the historians, writers, politicians, journalists, media who were influencing people without giving them the truth.

It is high time we put an end to this and truly encourage democracy. Dynastic democracy (!) should be wiped out. We should take pride in our heritage.

I was never ashamed of my heritage, culture or background. I hate double standards. Let us really celebrate our true leaders and be proud of them and what they stood for.

Vande Mataram. Bharat Mata ki Jai.

Corruption eats country like termite: PM

'Everyone should visit National War Memorial with family'

New Delhi, Jan. 31 (UNI)- Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Sunday said that "corruption hollows the country like a termite" and the countrymen should together work to get rid of it.

Addressing the 85th edition of Mann Ki Baat, the PM said he has received one crore postcards from children from different parts of the country and abroad. He said the postcards reflect how broad the vision of our new generation for the future of the country is.

Talking about one such postcard from Navya Verma of Prayagraj, UP, the PM said her dream for 2047 is of an India where everyone has a dignified life, where farmers are prosperous and there is no corruption.

"Navya, your dream for the country is very commendable. The country is also moving rapidly in this direction. You talked about a corruption-free India. Corruption hollows the country like a termite. Why wait for 2047 to get rid of it? All of us countrymen, today's youth have to do this work together, as soon as possible and for this it is very important that we give priority to our duties," the PM said.

Giving the example of many Padma awardees, the PM asked people to know about them and learn from their lives. "There are many names among the recipients of Padma awards, about whom very few people know. These are the unsung heroes of our country, who have done extraordinary deeds in ordinary circumstances... You must try to know about them. We will get to learn a lot from them in life," he said.

The PM expressed happiness over the way India is dealing with the new wave of Coronavirus. "India is fighting new wave of Corona with great success... Now the cases of Corona infection have also started decreasing. This is a very positive sign," he said.

"It is also a matter of pride that till now about four and a half crore children have been administered the dose of Corona vaccine. This means that about 60% of youth in the age group of 15 to 18 years have got their vaccines within 3 to 4 weeks," he said.

The PM said "the trust of our countrymen on the indigenous vaccine is our great strength." "People should be safe, the pace of economic activities of the country should be maintained," he added.

PM Modi also urged everyone to visit the National War Memorial in Delhi with their family. The Memorial has been established in memory of those who died for the country. The Prime Minister said that by visiting this place, every citizen will get special energy and inspiration.

Gokulam crematorium becomes hotbed of illegal activities

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (GA&DM)- Due to lack of maintenance and security, the decades old Gokulam crematorium, managed by the MCC, has turned out into a hotbed for illegal and immoral activities.

Many people of prestigious localities such as Gokulam, Vontikoppal, Paduvarahalli, Jayalakshmipuram and Vijayanagar, use this crematorium for the conduct of last rites of their dead kith and kin. But this crematorium is found lacking in facilities and other needed amenities, thanks to the negligence of the authorities and elected representatives.

Meanwhile, the crematorium has turned out into a hotspot for miscreants to carry out illegal and immoral activities once darkness sets in. The crematorium ground and the adjacent space has literally become a dumping spot for empty water and liquor bottles and other wastes. Also, there are complaints that some youths have turned it out into a drug trading and consumption spot.

The burial ground lacks drinking water and is severely inconveniencing people who come there for attending the last rites of their dead kith and kin. Though there is a pump borewell, it has become dysfunctional.

Though there is toilet and bath rooms, they do not have doors, thus beckoning the miscreants to carry out immoral activities under the cover of darkness. The lack of security has only encouraged the miscreants to carry out illegal and immoral activities. What is more disturbing is that liquor bottles and clothes are found littered in some of the toilet spaces. In another instance, one of the toilets has been converted into a leather store room.

Though the Police have been informed about the matter, the Police seems to be doing little to check illegal and immoral activities. Residents believe that a strong Police bandobust is needed to check such activities and save the nearby residents from embarrassment.

Corporator responds to media report, gets the place cleaned

Following a report on the Gokulam crematorium published in Mysuru Mithra, sister publication of Star of Mysore, on Jan. 29, Ward 19 Corporator Bhagya Madesh, along with Health Officer, AC and other MCC Officials, visited the crematorium the same day and got the place cleaned.

Speaking on the same, she said, "When my husband Madesh was the Corporator, he had developed the crematorium. Now I too had developed the crematorium by taking Rs. 40 lakh grant but miscreants continue to spoil the place. The same has been brought to the notice of MCC Commissioner who has assured of discussing the matter and getting a security deployed to the crematorium. He will be inspecting the crematorium on Wednesday."

Leakage of sewage water: MUDA Engineers make spot inspection

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (MK&DM)- With complaints galore on stagnant drainage water around houses in first Phase of Vijayanagar Fourth Stage, the MUDA authorities on Saturday visited the leakage spots for an inspection.

The inspection comes in the wake of news that was reported in Star of Mysore sister concern Mysuru Mithra on Jan. 28, highlighting sewage water collection around houses in the locality.

Speaking after the inspection, Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) Assistant Engineer Nandeesh said that the stagnant drainage water will be cleared in a fortnight. Pointing out that the collection of drainage water is due to leaking UGD pipes, he said that a new UGD pipeline is being laid. Stating that the MUDA team has inspected all the points from where drainage water is coming from, Nandeesh reiterated that the stagnant drainage water problem will be addressed in a fortnight.

Some residents said that they are bearing with stinking smell for the past three months and now the MUDA authorities have said that they would address the problem in 15 days. Maintaining that the compound and walls of houses are affected by seepage of drainage water, they said that they are forced to live with stinking smell and filth around. However, they expressed the hope that the authorities would keep their promise of addressing the issue in a fortnight.

Explaining the reasons for drainage water gushing into the residential area, they said that the UGD pipeline was damaged and the storm water drains got blocked when road development works was taken up on the road that links the Ring Road with Vijayanagar Fourth Stage.

Maintaining that the manholes and pipelines are lying damaged for years, the residents also alleged that UGD water, sewage water and storm water are getting collected at one point, which has only compounded the problem.

'Closure of cinema houses has affected thousands of families'

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (RKB&DM)- Maintaining that the Film industry is badly hit just like any other industry due to the COVID pandemic, actor Shivarajkumar said that cinema theatres are forced to shut down as new cinemas are not being released due to 50:50 occupancy rule in theatres.

Speaking to press persons here yesterday, Shivarajkumar said that though most of the cinemas are nearing completion, producers and distributors are not taking the risk of releasing cinemas due to 50:50 rule.

Pointing out that though the Government has relaxed the rule for many sectors, the continuance of the 50:50 rule in respect of cinema theatres is severely affecting the film industry, he said that the Government must do away this rule for theatres as well keeping in mind thousands of families who are dependent on cinema theatres.

Contending that many theatres across the State have shut down fearing losses on account of non-release of new films, Shivarajkumar asserted that the closure of cinema halls has rendered thousands of families jobless and without income.

Arguing that the 50:50 rule only for cinema theatres seems to be improper, he said that he, along with several others from the film industry, would meet Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai soon to urge him to withdraw the 50:50 rule for cinema halls in the interest of the film industry.

'Direct to home' piped gas project

Row over road-digging deepens

Why is MP Pratap Simha in a tearing hurry to pass bills, asks MLA Nagendra;

Miffed MLA rakes up Mysuru missing on Smart City, MLC election debacle

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (MTY&BCT)- The public squabbling between the BJP elected representatives — Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, MLAs L. Nagendra and S.A Ramdas — over the Piped Natural Gas (PNG) project in Mysuru has continued with the leaders hitting back at each other and digging up more dirt in full public view.

While Ramdas has not reacted to the latest statements by the MP, Nagendra did not mince words and retorted sharply to the MP's charges and allegations that date back to the previous Lok Sabha elections. A formal complaint has already been lodged with the BJP State leadership in this regard and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has offered to mediate between the warring parties over a people-friendly project.

The bone of contention (available for public consumption) is digging of the roads where the MLAs have expressed concern on the restoration after the digging works. The MLAs claimed that the Corporators, who come face to face with the voters every other day, do not have visibility to the project while the MP is in a tearing hurry to pass the bills from the Corporation.

"Officials told me that more than 500 km of the roads in the city, mostly in Chamaraja Assembly Constituency will be dug up for the project but the amount of money set aside for repair of the roads was just Rs. 98 crore. This amount is barely enough for patchwork on the roads that had recently been laid. Is Mysuru a patchwork city," Nagendra asked.

L. Nagendra

Corporators and MLAs do not have any knowledge about the company which has taken up the piped gas project. No one has been informed and many new roads have been unilaterally dug up, he said.

Public safety important

"Recently in Visakhapatnam, 14 people died due to a gas leakage. The company must give a demo on the work and clarify on who will be repairing the roads which will be dug-up to lay gas pipelines. And why the MP is showing special interest in the company entrusted with the project. Why is the company not ready to disclose the project details even to the Minister? Why is there no transparency in a public project," MLA Nagendra asked.

"The MP is jumping to the defence of the company executing the project but has no intention of explaining the project to the Corporators and the MLAs.

As an elected representative I have every right to raise questions over the damage to the roads and I have written only as much in the letter to the MCC authorities. I will hold somebody accountable for the repair of the roads dug up," he clarified.

MP election and other issues

Nagendra took objection to MP Pratap Simha's remark against him on failing to ensure the BJP candidate's victory in the MCC elections from the K.G. Koppal Ward, Nagendra's core support base. "The MP must clarify on the number of BJP candidates — out of the total 49 seats — he has ensured victory in the Zilla Panchayat polls. Being the MP for the past seven years, how many BJP candidates have won in Zilla Panchayat and Taluk Panchayat elections due to him," he asked.

"Simha never contested any local body elections but won the Lok Sabha election by sheer luck while I have served as a Corporator and worked hard to become an MLA. Let him prove his capacity by winning a Zilla Panchayat election from his native place," the MLA said.

Backing of voters

"During the Lok Sabha election, Chamaraja voters (my Constituency) gave the highest votes to Simha appreciating my development works. Everyone knows how you failed to ensure the victory of the BJP MLC candidate R. Raghu Kautilya and the MCC Council candidates. Pratap Simha himself had issued tickets to several of his followers in the MCC elections. Was he able to ensure their victory?," he charged.

Reacting to Simha's statement that his work can be equated to the work done by the Mysore Maharajas, Nagendra said, "What is the need for the MP to talk about so many things other than the topic? Do not compare yourself with the Maharajas. No politician ever can initiate development projects like them. You did not even get a Smart City project to Mysuru," he said.

Displaying a list of works taken up in his Constituency at a cost of Rs. 526 crore since he was elected to the Legislative Assembly in 2018, Nagendra countered the charges levelled against him by the MP that he was not able to bring even Rs. 30 crore for development work of Chamaraja Constituency.

'No one has filed any case against me'

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (MTY&BCT)- "I have not stumbled in my life unlike you. You have flipped on many issues in your life and no one has filed any case against me," said Chamaraja MLA L. Nagendra, replying to the charges levelled against him by MP Pratap Simha.

"I am not involved in money laundering, usury and real estate deals and I believe in a clean public life. I strive day and night for a clean and honest image," the MLA said.

Seemingly upset at the MP's certain remarks, Nagendra said, "I have come up in public life with sheer hard work and service unlike you who became an MP all of a sudden without responding to the aspirations of the people."

"I am not as wise and intelligent as you and I am not even educated to your level. I have not grown to be a national-level leader like you but I have earned enough love and trust from the people and every day, thousands of people come to me with their wishes and demands and I make honest attempts to fulfil them. I am in their hearts and that gives me satisfaction," the MLA added.

Chain-snatchers target women

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (RK&KS)- Two chain-snatching incidents have been reported in city. While chain-snatchers managed to yank off a part of the gold chain in the first incident on New Kantharaj Urs Road, the miscreants had to flee from the spot after dropping the gold chain on the road in Vidyaranyapuram.

In the first incident, a 42-year-old woman, who was proceeding on her scooter with her friend riding pillion, lost a part of her gold chain to chain-snatchers near Bandanthamma Kalamma Temple on New Kantharaj Urs Road in Saraswathipuram yesterday.

The woman, who lost her gold chain, is Bhama, a resident of Agrahara Circle.

Bhama

Yesterday at about 7 pm, Bhama was proceeding from Vijaya Bank Circle towards Apollo BGS Hospital side on her scooter, when two miscreants dressed in black, came on a black coloured bike from behind and the pillion rider managed to yank off 10 grams of the total 25 grams gold chain of Bhama and sped away.

Bhama, who lost control of the scooter fell down along with her friend and both suffered minor injuries.

Saraswathipuram Police, who rushed to the spot, conducted mahazar, registered a case and have launched a hunt to nab the chain-snatchers.

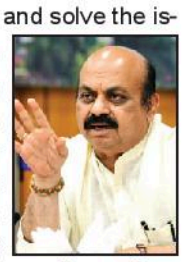
In the second incident, the miscreants, also wearing black dress and riding a black bike, snatched a gold chain of a woman near Kavitha Bakery in Vidyaranyapuram at about 8 pm yesterday.

As the gold chain fell on the road, the miscreants had to flee from the spot empty handed. No complaint has been lodged in this case and it is suspected that the chain- snatchers in the first incident may have attempted to snatch the chain in Vidyaranyapuram also.

CM Bommai to broker peace

Mysuru/Bengaluru, Jan. 31 (KMS,MTY&BCT)- Aware of the fact that statements made in public by MP Pratap Simha, MLAs L. Nagendra and the cold war between S.A. Ramdas and the MP will ultimately damage the BJP that is trying to strengthen its base in Mysuru region, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has offered to mediate and resolve differences.

Speaking to reporters in Bengaluru yesterday, Bommai said that the elected representatives are exchanging words over a development issue and these differences are bound to happen. "I will soon call both of them and bring in a truce and solve the issues," he said.



Bommai

On his part, MLA Nagendra said he has already brought the issue to the notice of the CM and Mysuru District Minister S.T. Somashekar. "I will discuss the issue in the party forum," he said.

BJP sources said that MP Pratap Simha has complained to party State President Nalin Kumar Kateel. Both the leaders have placed their contention before the party leaders about the gas pipeline project.

Survey of farmer families to be done, says CM

Bengaluru, Jan.31- As a measure to double the income of farmers, the Government has decided to conduct a survey of farmer families in the State.

Presiding over the newly formed Secondary Agriculture Department at Bengaluru on Saturday, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said that measures will be taken to double farmers income based on the data recorded from the survey.

Stressing on the need for formulating plans for doubling of farmer incomes, Bommai said that the survey will be carried out in four districts as a pilot project.

Pointing out that the Department will function independently from the original one, Bommai said that the Secondary Department will focus on integrated farming activities such as dairy farming, aquaculture, cattle rearing etc.

Noting that technology based farming that is more productive and less expensive will be promoted, he said that the Government will help the farmers to find local markets and as well as other marketing platforms.

He further said that the officials must concentrate on popularising digital concept among the farming community for market expansion. The Secondary Agriculture Department should work towards changing the centuries old mindset of the farmers, he added.

Youth Congress leaders allege injustice in selection of office-bearers

Speaking on the occasion, District Youth Congress President Donald F. Nirmanik highlighted the programmes of the Youth Congress. Hailing the appointment of Harshavardhan Ramesh, he claimed that Mohsin Khan, who lost in the online polls for election of Youth Congress office-bearers, has been appointed as the District Unit Vice-President, which is not correct. Questioning the Congress leaders on why the person who lost in the online polls has been given an important post, Nirmanik said that a delegation would be taken to the party high command at New Delhi to highlight the flaws in the appointment of office-bearers. New Spokesperson Harshavardhan Ramesh, Swaroop, Pradeep, Anukumar Gowda and others were present.

Vaastu Feng Shui & Bio-Energetics

By S.B.S. Surendra, Accredited Master Feng Shui Consultant

Positivity at Work-place

The philosophy of Feng Shui is embraced by people who are aware of the impact their surroundings have on them and feel the need to take action to improve their lives. Using Feng Shui correctly is a skill and its principles cannot be adapted simply to suit the circumstances of a place or an individual.

In Feng Shui there are two primary natural forms which must be respected and utilised, water and mountains. In the analogy of the Tao, water is the yang active principle and mountains carry the passive or yin principle. The earth is criss-crossed with energy lines that are affected by virtually all geographical and topographical phenomena. This means that we are affected by our environment, and we in turn modify our environment by what we do within it.

Aligning the interiors and the furnishing alone ensures excellent Feng Shui when tuned with the compass directions and one can achieve a lot through these methods and proper alignments.

When we adapt the oriental science for designing new homes or a office, the primary concern is to get the space to be in tune with the occupants. In a office set up it does get tricky as it has to keep in mind many different individuals to be working from there. The location of the office is not normally something over which we have control but its internal layout can make a great difference to the way people feel and behave.

By adapting Feng Shui in Office environment, energy movement is assisted and at the very least the personal workspace could be cleared of accumulated "clutter". The energy of an office could be dramatically improved if its occupants respond to each other in a positive way and co-operate with one another. Changes as simple as re-aligning the furniture, painting or moving in healthy plants are at times more than enough. Negativity breeds Negativity so forward planning and planning work programmes holistically, rather than a day-to-day basis will reduce stress.

Cramped working areas lead to cramped minds. We feel resentful if we constantly knock ourselves on colleagues, desks or cupboards. Open plan office can leave people feeling vulnerable so it is important that they personalise their spaces and are not surprised from behind.

Staff rooms are where employees meet, discuss work and air grievances and the Feng Shui of these rooms is important if staff is to be positive, though they should not be too comfortable or breaks will be extended.

For enhancing the feel of your work-place you could try few important Feng Shui tips:

• Ensure that the entrance is well maintained. What the staff see as they arrive each day has a strong impact on their mind and work output.

• Avoid waste bins at entrance and keep it clutter free.

• Shadowy corners and ill-lit passageways will not encourage staff to linger in the evening; keep them well lit.

• Fresh paint work and clean flooring create an air of efficiency and, together with positive images on the walls, suggest to employees that they are valued.

• Boardroom tables are best if they are oval; round tables are useful in brainstorming sessions of the management team.

Feng Shui for office or commercial location can create an environment, which will support the occupants and enable them to progress.

Housing Societies blame Government policies for delay in allotment of sites

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (MTY&DM)- Maintaining that Housing Societies of the city are striving hard for time-bound allotment of sites to their members, the Federation of Mysuru District Housing Co-operative Societies leader D.T. Prakash has blamed Government policies for the delay in site allotment.

Addressing a press meet here yesterday, Prakash said that the Housing Co-operative Societies come under the purview of MUDA. Pointing out that there is not a single representative from Housing Societies in MUDA, he said that this has resulted in the failure to draw the attention of the Government body towards the problems of the Housing Societies.

Stressing on the need for making a Housing Society representative as MUDA member, he said that multiple litigations in respect of acquired lands is causing inordinate delay in formation of layouts and allotment of sites, for which the Housing Societies cannot be blamed.

Federation President J. Puttaswamy, who also addressed the press meet, said that it takes years together for getting sanction from various Government Departments and agencies for providing public utilities and civic amenities. Emphasising on the need for introducing a single-window system for granting various Government clearances and sanction, he said that such a measure will largely help in curtailing the delay in site allotment.

Puttaswamy also wanted the Government to endorse seniority of members at the District or Regional level Co-operation Department offices instead of at the Department's State-level office. Asserting that Government policies and land litigations as well as delayed approval from MUDA were hindering time-bound allotment of sites to members of Societies, he argued that the delay in site allotment was not due to lapses on the part of Housing Societies.

Federation office-bearers Mahesh, Shantaraju, Nanjegowda, Mahadevaswamy, Krishnegowda, Annegowda, Narasimhaiah, Nagaraju, Mahadevaswamy, Channegowda, Manjegowda and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Bamboozle

Pronunciation: bam-BOO-zul.
Meaning: "To deceive, trick, or confuse."
Origin: In 1710, Irish author Jonathan Swift wrote an article on "the continual Corruption of our English Tongue" in which he complained of "the Choice of certain Words invented by some pretty Fellows." Among the inventions Swift disliked was bamboozle, which was used by contemporary criminals. Other than that, the origin of bamboozle remains a mystery, but the word has clearly defied Swift's assertion that "All new affected Modes of Speech ... are the first perishing Parts in any Language."..
Example: "Picasso ... showed a talent for bamboozling the authorities, and was able by quick thinking and quicker talking to foil attempts by the Germans to seize a bank vault in which he and Matisse had stored stacks of their work that were worth millions." — John Banville.

THE ODD WORD

Baculus

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush

Meaning: The phrase 'A Bird in the Hand is Worth Two in the Bush' is used for saying that it's better to hold onto something one has already than to risk losing it by trying to attain something better.
Origin: Though the origin of the idiom 'a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush' isn't exactly known, what is known is that this is a very old saying. There are various examples of the idiom appearing in early print dating back to the 16th century; one 1530 statement by Hugh Rhodes reads "Better one byrde in hande than ten in the wood."
Example: "I think I'm gonna quit my job..another firm is going to offer me a better job.." Joe: "Are you sure? You probably shouldn't quit unless you know you're gonna get in for sure. A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush."

Rafael Nadal wins Record 21st Grand Slam Title

Beats Medvedev in Australian Open Final

Rafael Nadal posing with Australian Open winner's trophy.

Melbourne, Jan. 31- Rafael Nadal defeated Daniil Medvedev in the Australian Open men's singles final on Sunday to win a record 21st Grand Slam title.

Coming from two sets down in the title clash, Nadal rallied to defeat Medvedev in a gruelling final in Melbourne.

With his victory, Nadal overtook Roger Federer and Novak Djokovic in the list of most men's singles Majors and become the first ever male player to win more than 20 Grand Slam titles in singles. Nadal won the thrilling final in Melbourne 2-6, 6-7 (5), 6-4, 6-4, 7-5.

Earlier, Medvedev broke in fifth and seventh games to take the opening set in 42 minutes.

The duo then exchanged two breaks each before the second set went to a tiebreak where Medvedev prevailed in a gripping set lasting 84 minutes.

Nadal then fought back and won the third set as he broke the Russian second seed in the ninth game as the crowd roared him on.

In the fourth set, Nadal kept his hopes alive by grinding down an increasingly agitated Medvedev, breaking two times to the Russian's one.

In the dramatic final set, Nadal broke Medvedev's serve in the fifth game but the Russian broke back in the 10th game to level the set.

Nadal, however, broke back immediately to clinch victory and become the first ever man in the history of tennis to win 21 Grand Slam titles.
